

Eric Quincieu

Senior Water Resources Specialist
equincieu@adb.org

Eric Quincieu is a Senior Water Resources Specialist in the Environment, Natural Resources and Agriculture Division of the Southeast Asia Department of the Asian Development Bank. Mr. Quincieu is leading preparation and implementation of operations in the sector in Indonesia. It includes processing of the Water Security Investment Project and implementation of flood management and irrigated agriculture investments in Indonesia. Prior to his posting in Indonesia Mr. Quincieu was administering other ADB water sector operations in Southeast Asia. Mr. Quincieu is a French national who has been working extensively for ADB and other development, private and public sector organizations in Asia. He has been involved in project planning, design, and administration of water resource management and natural resources investment projects and non-lending services since 2000.