

Gilles Brunschwig

Managing Director
Altereo

g.brunschwig@altereo.fr

Gilles Brunschwig is the Managing Director of Altereo. He holds an engineering degree from the Ecole Centrale de Paris and an MBA from INSEAD. Mr. Brunschwig began his career in the environment sector at CLS, the company that operates the Argos system dedicated to Environmental study and protection. He continued his career holding various responsibilities in the telecommunications sector.

Throughout his career spanning nearly three decades, Mr. Brunschwig has been a promoter of innovative solutions. In joining Altereo, he has implemented this strategy at the service of the water sector and in particular for the reduction of NRW in the drinking water networks. He has also been asked to present solutions and opportunities for infrastructure and network Asset Management for the water sector at several conferences and seminars organized by international financial institutions such as the EBRD and the ADB.