

Krishna Chaitanya Rao

FSM Consultant

International Water Management Institute

kcraop@gmail.com

Krishna Chaitanya Rao is a trained development expert with an academic background in international development and non-profit management and bachelor's degree in chemical engineering.

Mr. Rao has more than 15 years of experience working in developing countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America on provision of infrastructure service and specifically on energy access and sanitation service such a solid and liquid waste management incorporating reuse. Krishna has developed and tested for feasibility various business models for Resource Recovery and Reuse program, using multi-criteria assessment in multiple cities in developing countries.

For the last 6 years, Mr. Rao's key areas of focus have been on developing solutions for fecal sludge management (FSM) and greywater management in South Asia where he has worked on multiple projects advising governments on technical aspects to improve solid and liquid waste management and setting up of fecal sludge treatment plants incorporating reuse and greywater management systems.